

PARIS SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS
ÉCOLE D'ÉCONOMIE DE PARIS

Trade and Development

Commerce et Développement

Friday October 3rd, 2008 – Grande salle

A workshop funded by INRA and the CEPREMAP and organised by Marta Menéndez and Akiko Suwa with the assistance of Béatrice Havet and Patricia Guézo.

Venue : Paris School of Economics, 48 boulevard Jourdan, 75014 Paris

Workshop website : http://www.paris-jourdan.ens.fr/ydepot/actua/JOURNE/2008_10_03/index.php

Welcome Coffee

Session 1: 10-12 AM

Does Regionalism reduce the volatility of trade policy?

Olivier Cadot (HEC Lausanne, Cepremap, Cerdi CEPR), joint with M.Olarreaga and J.Tschopp

The Impact of Trade Liberalization on Productivity in Chinese Industry

Loren Brandt (University of Toronto), joint with J. van Biesebroeck and Y.Zhang

Discussion leader: Thierry Verdier (EHESS, Paris School of Economics and Cepremap)

LUNCH--Cafeteria PSE

Session 2: 1:45-3:45 PM

Multi-product Firms and Product Turnover in the Developing World: Evidence from India

Imported Intermediate Inputs and Domestic Product Growth: Evidence from India.

Nina Pavcnik (Dartmouth College), joint with P.Goldberg, A.Khandelwal, P.Topalova

Research in progress : Market Access and Specialization in cash crop :What are Vietnam's expected gains from WTO accession.

Barbara Coello (PSE-INRA, AFD)

Discussion leader: Lionel Fontagné (Université Paris I, Paris School of Economics and Cepremap)

Break

Session 3 : 4:00-6:00 PM

Economic Geography and Wages in Brazil: Evidence from Micro-Data.

Cristina Terra (THEMA, EPGÉ), Rodrigo Paillacar (PSE CES), Thibaut Fally (PSE)

Research in Progress: Trade Liberalization, Inequality and Poverty in Brazilian States.

Marta Menéndez (Paris-Dauphine and INRA-LEA) & Aude Sztulman (Paris-Dauphine)

Discussion leader: Jean-Marc Siroën (Université Paris IX Dauphine)